CIRCULATING THROUGHOUT THE VAST AGRICULTURAL AREA OF PALM BEACH COUNTY

Migrant Aid Need Cited By Bandlow

Palm Beach County Migrant Aid Committee needs money, Edward W. Bandlow, county commissioner, said Wednesday.

The committee has received several requests for aid to buy food and pay rent for migrants in need as a result of the December freeze, which destroyed some citrus and vegetables in the county.

While the committee has $15,000 available for general emergency use, this money cannot be used for individual cases of need, Bandlow explained. Only interest on the $15,000 may be used in such cases.

The committee met Dec. 17 and decided that no general emergency existed among migrant workers because of the freeze. A request for donations was made then, but no donations have been received thus far, Bandlow said.

Interest declared Dec. 31 was distributed for use as follows: $97.20 to Belle Glade, $48.61 to Pahokee and $50 to the coastal area.

Next interest payment will be made March 31, but the committee may need more money before then, Bandlow said.

Requests for aid to the committee are screened by the County Welfare Dept., he continued, to determine if real need exists and if the migrant turned down work offers.

Auto Tags On Sale In Glades Bldg.

Mrs. George C. Young and her crew of workers were busy on Wednesday of this week when they started selling 1963 automobile tags. A system has been worked out by Mrs. Young's office in the Glades Office Building to speed up tag-selling. A number system is being used.

For the newcomer: The place to buy your tags is at the GLADES OFFICE BUILDING.

It is a branch Court House and is located north of Belle Glade at the intersection of Hooker Highway and SR15.

Despite what big city papers call the building, such as "Glades County Office Building," the proper name is and has been "Glades Office Building." To call it "Glades County Office Building" might lead one to believe it would be necessary to go to Moore Haven to buy a tag because Moore Haven is the county seat of Glades County.

Luncheon Woman's Club On Jan. 9th

A luncheon meeting of the Pahokee Woman's Club will be held Wednesday, January 9, at noon in the clubhouse. Mrs. C. M. Todd, president, who will preside, urges all members to attend as some important business must be transacted.

Miss Elmore Brackin and her brother, Stephen, of Eagle Lake were the guests Monday of Mrs. and Mrs. Charles Boynton and children in Orlando.

Donald Crews Is Named To Pa. Trip

Donald Crews, formerly of Pahokee, now a senior at the University of Florida, majoring in building construction, was chosen by officials of the Bethlehem Steel Company, following an interview, to make a trip to the main plant at Bethlehem, Pa. on Jan. 30. He will be flown there for a tour of the steel fabrication plant and will be entertained by company officials. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Crews visited his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Crews in Pahokee on New Years Day, enroute to Gainesville from Ft. Lauderdale where they spent the holidays with relatives.

Citrus Damage Is Placed At 90 Pct.

LAKE LAND — A government agency Wednesday estimated that the worst freeze of the century damaged more than 90 per cent of Florida's early and midseason orange crop and 68 per cent of the late crop.

But the significance of the figures was a question that had even veteran citrus officials puzzled.

After pouring over the report of the Florida Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, they said it could not possibly be used as a basis for estimating how many boxes of fruit actually were lost.

Mr. and Mrs. O. B. McClure have had as their guests during the holidays, their daughter, Miss Jane McClure of Fort Lauderdale, and his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Guy McClure of Ft. Pierce and Thomas, Oklahoma.

Dimes March Plan Has Many Workers

With key campaigners already at work throughout Palm Beach County, Mrs. Neal Wellman, county chairman for the March of Dimes "Mothers March," this week renewed an appeal for more volunteers.

Mrs. Wellman said Mothers March chairmen have been named in nearly all communities in the county and these leaders are now at work organizing volunteer organizations for the annual "march" set for the evening of January 24.

Many volunteers have already responded to the appeal, Mrs. Wellman reported, "but the fact is, we can use more—as many as possible." Every effort, she said, is being made to make the Jan. 24 house-to-house call, the best in the 25 year history of this event.

Funds from the Mothers March and other activities during the March of Dimes drive will be used to help provide medical care for children crippled and disabled by birth defects, arthritis and polio.

"Polio is no longer the threat it once was, thanks to the Salk and Sabin vaccines developed through March of Dimes funds, but we still need millions of dollars a year to aid those already stricken," Mrs. Wellman said.

She urged residents wishing to help in the Mothers March to contact their local community chairmen, and announced the following roster of campaign leaders: Pahokee and Canal Point, Mrs. I. M. Lair; Belle Glade: Mrs. Emmett D. Harris, Jr., and Mrs. Barnes Smith; South Bay: Mrs. Clayton Waters; Lake Harbor, Mrs. C. A. Thomas.

Cypress Gardens Stands Cold Spell

WINTER HAVEN — If all of Florida's famed tourist attractions had similar experiences to Central Florida's Cypress Gardens and South Florida's Caribbean Gardens during December's bitter freeze, visitors to the state will see the Sunshine State as green as ever.

It required round-the-clock efforts with new equipment and techniques to keep the attractions from being destroyed by the sub-freezing weather, but the almost impossible was accomplished.

At Caribbean Gardens near Naples water from 60 to 80 foot wells which maintain a 70 degree temperature was utilized to warm the soil by sprinkling until the mercury reached 35 degrees. Then irrigation was stopped to permit plants to dry out before the freezing mark was reached.

In addition, three artesian flowing wells furnishing water for the 11 acres of lakes were kept flowing. Heaters and infra-red lamps in the greenhouses protected the delicate orchids and air plants.

It took 48,000 gallons of fuel oil and over 1600 heaters built in California to save the flowers at Cypress Gardens. The heaters burned for 16 hours the first night and 15 hours the following night.

"What damage there was," said Chief Gardener Vernon Rutter, Sr., "occurred among the tender, tropical plants such as banana plants. But 95 per cent of the winter plants and blossoms came through."

They were sleepless nights and hard days for those in Florida's tourist attractions. But the flowers and foliage were saved by Herculean effort so that the state's visitors can continue to enjoy the tropical wonderland of the state that once more has sunshine.

HOMESTEAD VISITORS

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Herring of Pahokee had as holiday guests their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Herring and children, Kristin and David, of Homestead, where he is the agricultural teacher in the high school; and Mrs. Sam Muddons of Knoxville, Tenn. Mrs. Muddons is the granddaughter of the Herrings.

Cane Cold Loss May Run 30,000 Acres

It is next to the impossible to estimate the exact amount of acres of sugar cane loss in the recent freeze. State, county and federal officials are making a valiant effort to come up with a figure that will stand up, but to date they have been able only to render estimates. And, in many cases these estimates all depend on the weather this area experiences in the next few days.

As much as 30,000 of the 139,000 acres of Glades sugar cane could be lost completely as a result of the hard freeze of two weeks ago.

But growers who can weather the financial storm will not lose their quotas because they cannot harvest the damaged cane.

Ray Gantt, manager of the agricultural stabilization and conservation office for the Glades, gave that assessment of the cane picture Wednesday — and promised a more complete survey shortly, when growers have a better chance to count their probable losses.

Gantt noted, they will not lose their 1963-64 quotas, which are to be based on cane ground this season.

Cane lost by frost damage will count towards quotas just as if it had been ground. Producers will also get a "deficiencies and abandonment" payment for the lost acreage.

Miss Sandra Lampi Bowl Participant

Miss Sandra Lampi, daughter of Bandmaster and Mrs. Robert O. Lampi of Pahokee, was a two-fold participant in the activities to entertain spectators in connection with the Orange Bowl game. And on New Year's Day she was a performer on the Carousel Float in the half-time show in the Orange Bowl, which was also televised nationally.

Alyce Spencer Weds W. H. Whitcomb

The marriage of Miss Alyce Joyce Spencer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Jackson Spencer of Pahokee, to William Herbert Whitcomb of Orlando, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Alvan Whitcomb, was solemnized in a double ring ceremony at the Pahokee First Methodist Church, Sunday, December 30, at 4 p. m. Rev. R. E. Achenhuser of Orlando, officiated, assisted by the pastor, Rev. T. C. O'Steen, as the couple stood before an altar decorated with white gladioli and palms against a background of palms.

Miss Dottie Lair, organist, played the traditional wedding selections and accompanied W. D. Boehmer of Hollywood, vocalist, as he sang, "I Love You Truly," "O Promise Me," and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of silk taffeta with fitted bodice, featuring a scoop lace-trimmed neckline touched with tiny sequins and seed pearls. The long sleeves with cloth-covered buttons tapered to lily points at the wrists. The princess' style skirt was fashioned with side panels of overlaid lace, terminating in matching bows. Three bows graced a small bustle in the back with the skirt ending in a chapel train. Her veil of French illusion was attached to a leaf-like headpiece of lace, studded with sequins and teardrop pearls. Her bouquet was a cascade of feathered white carnations, centered with a white orchid and accented with ivy.

The maid of honor, Miss Kathleen Spencer, sister of the bride, wore a cerise dress with matching accessories and carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations.

Little Miss Jane Spencer, youngest sister of the bride, was flower girl and wore a bouffant dress of cerise organza.

The mother of the bride chose a suit of green silk for her daughter's wedding. An orchid corsage completed her costume. Mrs. Whitcomb, mother of the groom, was dressed in a suit of aqua satin and wore an orchid corsage.

James Gearheart of Orlando, brother-in-law of the groom, served as best man, and the ushers were John Spencer, brother of the bride; Phillip Whitcomb, brother of the groom, and John Herman.

For traveling the bride wore a suit of aqua wool trimmed with mink and her corsage was

"Today we need a nation of Minute Men citizens who regard the preservation of freedom as a basic purpose of their daily life"

—JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY

10 days after his inauguration as the 35th President of the United States.

Twenty years ago, in the dark, uneasy days before Pearl Harbor, the Minute Man of Concord, timeless symbol of our Nation's determination to defend its freedom, emerged as the emblem of the U. S. Savings Bonds Program. When war came, the Minute Man became the rallying force behind the huge and overwhelmingly successful effort to back our fighting men with War Bonds.

In this, the 20th anniversary year of Savings Bonds, the Minute Man of Concord calls all Americans to an unremitting effort to help preserve our peace and freedom, threatened by forces more powerful and resourceful than those we faced in 1941. Though this effort will take many forms, one way open to all is the continued investment in Shares in America, U. S. Savings Bonds, by "citizens who regard the preservation of freedom as a basic purpose of their daily life."

New $3\frac{3}{4}\%$ interest on U.S. Savings Bonds

The Treasury explains why the new ones you buy and the ones you own now are better than ever

Q: How does the new $3\frac{3}{4}\%$ interest rate benefit me?

A: With Series E Bonds, the rate turns $18.75 into $25.00 fourteen months faster than the old rate. Your savings increase faster, because your Bonds mature in just 7 years, 9 months.

With Series H Bonds, the 10-year maturity period stays the same but more interest is paid you each six months. With both E and H Bonds the new rate works out to $2\frac{1}{2}\%$ for the first year and a half; then a guaranteed 4% each year to maturity.

Q: When did the new rate become effective?

A: June 1, 1959.

Q: Does the new rate change the Bonds I bought before June 1, 1959?

A: All older E and H Bonds pay more now—an extra $\frac{1}{4}\%$ from now on, when held to maturity. The increase takes effect in the first full interest period after June 1.

Q: Will the Bonds I own automatically earn their new rate?

A: Yes. You don't need to do a thing—just hold on to your Bonds.

Q: When my E Bonds mature, will they keep on earning interest?

A: Yes. An automatic 10-year extension privilege went into effect along with the new interest rate. This means your E Bonds will automatically keep earning interest after maturity.

Q: With the new interest rate, should I cash in my old Bonds and buy new ones?

A: No. The automatic $\frac{1}{4}\%$ increase makes it unnecessary—and in almost every case it is to your advantage to retake your present Bonds.

Q: How are series H Bonds different from series E Bonds?

A: The chief difference is this: You buy H Bonds at full face value and the interest is paid by Treasury check every six months for the life of the Bond. You buy E Bonds at 75% of face value and the interest accumulates to maturity. H Bonds provide income for living expenses, while E Bonds build a nest egg for the future. That's why many retired people hold H Bonds and families saving for, say, a child's education, buy E Bonds.

Q: In what denominations can I buy series E and series H Bonds?

A: E Bonds: $25 (cost $18.75), $50 (cost $37.50), $100 (cost $75.00), $200 (cost $150.00), $500 (cost $375.00), $1,000 (cost $750.00), $10,000 (cost $7,500.00).

H Bonds: $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000. They are priced at face value.

Q: How safe are U.S. Savings Bonds?

A: Savings Bonds are an absolutely riskless way to save. The United States Government guarantees the cash value of your Bonds will not drop, that it can only grow.

Q: What if my Bonds should be lost, stolen or destroyed?

A: You can't lose. Every Bond purchased is recorded by the Treasury. If anything happens to your Bonds they are replaced—free.

Q: Where can I buy Bonds?

A: Buy E Bonds at any bank—it takes only a few minutes. Buy them automatically through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. This Plan means you can have any amount you name automatically deducted every payday. The Bonds you buy by installments are delivered to you automatically, too. Your bank will take your order for H Bonds.

Q: How do I help strengthen America's peace power when I buy U.S. Savings Bonds?

A: Peace costs money—money for military strength and for science. And money saved by individuals helps keep our economy sound.

YOU SAVE MORE THAN MONEY WITH U. S. SAVINGS BONDS

Christian Science Group Of Canal Point

Man's inseparable relationship to his creator will be emphasized at Christian Science church services Sunday. Subject of the Lesson-Sermon is "God".

Golden Text: "Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them, and be their God" (Rev. 21:3).

Readings will include this passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (p. 3): "The Divine Being must be reflected by man, else man is not the image and likeness of the patient, tender, and true, the One 'altogether lovely'; but to understand God is the work of eternity, and demands absolute consecration of thought, energy, and desire."

Tourist Industry Affects Everybody

TALLAHASSEE — The extent to which all Floridians benefit from the tourist industry is shown in a survey just completed by the Florida Development Commission as revealed by Chairman-Director Wendell Jarrard.

"Everyone recognizes that establishments like hotels, motels, restaurants and commercial attractions depend heavily on tourists," Jarrard said. "But it is not always understood that there are many ways in which our visitors' spending helps other sections of the economy."

Jarrard said the marketing problem of Florida farmers were greatly eased by tourists, who annually consume billions of pounds of the state's agricultural products.

He pointed out that the survey shows visitors to Florida in 1961 consumed nearly 19 million pounds of fresh citrus fruit, 18,108,000 dozen eggs and 63 million pounds of fresh vegetables.

Jarrard noted, also, that of the $2,043,000,000 spent by tourists in 1961, it has been estimated that $235,645,000 was paid out in wages and salaries to employees of retail establishments, and another $262 million was paid out in wages and salaries of service establishments.

Operators and employees of amusements received more than $262 million in income during the year, while clothing and footwear stores got another $237 million.

Ray Cagni of Miami spent the New Year weekend with Louie and Jerry Gold in Pahokee.

Carley Bracewell Weds W. M. Mackey

Miss Carley Jean Bracewell daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Franklin Bracewell of Pahokee, became the bride of William Maurice Mackey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ben Mackey, also of Pahokee, in a candlelight ceremony, at the Canal Point Baptist Church, Saturday, Dec. 29, at 7 p. m. Rev. Alfred Meeks of Folsom, La., uncle of the bride, officiated, with the couple repeating their vows before an altar decorated with baskets of white poinsettias, gladioli and mums.

Mrs. Hugh Branch, soloist, and Miss Dottie Lair, pianist, presented wedding selections, including "With This Ring" and "The Wedding Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full-length gown of taffeta with fitted bodice of Chantilly lace graced with seed pearls, and fashioned with long sleeves tapering to a point at the wrist. The full skirt featuring lace appliques and seed pearls, was caught up in the back with a double flat bow and ended in a chapel train. Her veil of French illusion was attached to a crown of pearls, and she carried a bouquet of white mums centered with red rosebuds.

Mrs. Glenn Levins, matron of honor, and sister of the bride, wore a street-length dress of red brocade and carried a white fur muff decorated with red rosebuds. Her headpiece was of white fur and tulle.

The bridesmaids, Miss Becky Mackey, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Myra Jones, wore ensembles identical to that worn by the matron of honor.

Robert G. Mackey of Stuart, brother of the groom, was best man, and ushers were Ronnie Bracewell, brother of the bride, and Ernest Tillman, Jr.

A reception was held in the social hall of the church following the ceremony. Miss Cynthia Turbeville and Mrs. John Gandy presided at the punch bowl and Mrs. Billy Turbeville and Mrs. Pat Turbeville served portions of the wedding cake. Miss Wanda Jo Lowery had charge of the bride's book.

For traveling the bride wore a suit of beige brocade with matching accessories and her corsage was the red roses from her bouquet.

Following a wedding trip to central Florida, Mr. and Mrs. Mackey will make their home in Pahokee, where he is employed, by the Glades Equipment Company.

Among the out-of-town guests attending were Rev. and Mrs. Alfred W. Meeks and sons, Michael and Mark, Folsom, La.; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Humphries and daughter, Cindy, Stuart; Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Collingsworth and Mrs. O'Neal Walker of South Bay; Mrs. Edna Jones, Avon Park; Frankie Crieder, Niagara Falls, N. Y.; Rev. Lawrence Stewart, West Palm Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Dan Mullis, Orlando; Mr. and Mrs.

Ag Service To Have New 4-H Club Work

GAINESVILLE — A new 4-H Club activity called the Town and Country Business Program will get under way in 1963, announces Dr. M. O. Watkins, director of the University of Florida Agricultural Extension Service.

The new program was tried out in Escambia, Jackson, Suwannee, Columbia, St. Johns, Lake and St. Lucie counties last year.

The program is for older youth and deals with business operations related to agriculture—"agri-business." From Town and Country Business, young people gain a better understanding of economics and business by studying firms associated with the marketing of agricultural products.

The youth also explore employment opportunities in business closely related to agriculture and thereby gain a greater appreciation of the problems and structure of agriculture marketing. In addition, the program points out the needs and benefits of further training and education needed for jobs in agri-business as well as in other employment fields.

"Town and Country Business was warmly received by the businessmen representing some 25 firms across the state that cooperated with clubs in the seven counties last year," Watkins said.

Ronnie Kautz Has Salerno Beach Party

A beach party given by Ronnie Kautz and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kautz, at Salerno Beach, last Friday, was one of the entertainments enjoyed by the college crowd during the holidays.

On Sunday night, Mrs. R. B. Simonson and Mrs. I. M. Lair entertained at the home of Mrs. Simonson, 679 Bacom Point Road, Pahokee, for the college students, following the church services at the Pahokee Methodist Church.

Monday evening, a group of young people home from college, enjoyed a delightful New Year's party at the home of Mrs. Hugo Boe on East Main Street, Pahokee, when Mrs. Boe and Mrs. Robert Hatton entertained for their sons, Robert Boe and Roger Hatton.

The hostesses used pastel balloons for decorating and the refreshment table was centered with an arrangement of pink poinsettias and pink tapers. Included in the entertainment was a Christmas tree bonfire, games and dancing. Those attending were Misses Janet Harrington, Sue Brower, Falsy Keene, Katherine Young, Emma Lu Lair, Alice Hurt, Diane White, Linda A. Wootter, Yvonne Thompson, and Debbie Mizelle, John Hundley, Ronnie Kautz, Roger Hatton, Robert Boe, Douglas Potter, James Bryant, David Simonson, Billie Plumer, John Russom, Skeets Boe and John Cook.

John Hundley Is Rotary Speaker

John Lloyd Hundley was guest speaker at the luncheon meeting of the Pahokee Rotary Club, last Thursday. Introduced by R. O. Lampi, program chairman, John, who was student member of the club last year, spoke on the first trimester activities at the University of Florida where he is a freshman.

Vance Denton led the group in singing, and Dr. E. C. Johnson, president, presided over the business session.

Student member, R. O. (Buddy) Lampi II, had his sister, Miss Sandra Lampi, as his guest.

Bibletown Music Meets Approval

"Letters, long distance calls and telegrams attest to the fact that Bibletown's Sacred Concerts have become an integral part of Northern visitor's agenda while in Florida," said Mr. Ira Lee Eshleman, President and Founder of Bibletown, after completing a study of Tourists' Reservation schedules, presently on file at Bibletown, U. S. A.

This year, Bibletown intends to coordinate with the nation's program of "togetherness", bringing the entire family together, in play, as well as in prayer.

Therefore, there will be a family Church Dinner at six on Saturday evenings. For this purpose, a newly-appointed dining room, resplendent with floral decorations, shimmering white linens, soft lights, and delightful dinner music has been evolved. It will be called the Floresta Room.

Following dinner there will be a complete program in the ornate new 2500-seat Bibletown Auditorium at 7:30.

VISIT THE McILWAINS

Mrs. Abe Dobrow spent the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Zelmenvitz at Fort Pierce.

HOLIDAY VACATION

Following a holiday vacation spent with their respective parents in Pahokee, Miss Yvonne Thompson, Miss Faith Sasser, Miss Linda Wootter and Miss Ruth Colvard have returned to their studies at Stetson University, Deland.
